

Seeking Stories from Young Writers for the Write On! Wetlands Challenge 2011

Open to students in grades 6-9.

PART 1: The Writer's Challenge

HOW TO ENTER

1. Write a story that tells about different types of wetlands all over the world. Make your story fun, creative, and original.
2. Send your story typed and single-spaced, on 8.5" x 11" paper. To save paper, submit your document with multiple pages per paper and the words "page break" inserted in the proper space. The final story will be 16 pages, no more than 40 words per page. For a list of full contest guidelines, as well as helpful tips and checklists, visit www.wetland.org/education_writeon.htm.
3. Submit your story to Environmental Concern by mail: Attention: Write On! Challenge P.O. Box P, 201 Boundary Lane, St Michaels, MD 21663
4. Save a tree by emailing stories to: educate@wetland.org, Subject: Write On!
The deadline for entries is February 1, 2011.

To purchase copies of past winners go to www.wetland.org

Celebrate American Wetlands Month in May by being a part of the Write On! Wetlands Challenge!

Brought to you by:
Environmental Concern Inc.
410.745.9620

www.wetland.org

Stay tuned in March
for the winner announcements and Part 2: The Illustrator's Challenge open to grades K-5.

Help create a children's book written and illustrated by kids, for kids!

